Subject: FW: Post-Travel Disclosure outstanding issues

Neil,

I am the Committee counsel assigned to review your Post-Travel Disclosure Form for the January 6 to 8, 2008 trip Las Vegas sponsored by the Consumer Electronics Association. Unfortunately, you submitted to the Clerk the incorrect Post-Travel Disclosure Form, as you completed the one for Members/Officers.

Thus, you will need to complete the Employee Post-Travel Disclosure Form found at http://ethics.house.gov/Media/PDF/Form_Employee_PostTravel_Apr_2007.pdf, which must be signed and dated by your employing Member, Cong Joe Barton, and re-submit this as an amendment to the Clerk of the House in B-106 Cannon HOB.

Please note that in completing this Employee Post-Travel Disclosure Form you do NOT need to resubmit any of the attachments as you filed those documents with the Clerk's office previously when you initially filed the incorrect Member/Officer Post-Travel Disclosure form in January of this year.

Thank you!

Dear Mr. Fried:

Pursuant to House Rule XXV, clause 5(d)(2), the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct hereby approves your proposed trip to Las Vegas, Nevada scheduled for January 6 to 8, 2008 sponsored by the Consumer Electronics Association.

You must complete an Employee Travel Disclosure Form (which your employing Member must also sign) and file it with the Clerk of the House within 15 days after your return from travel. As part of that filing, you are required to attach a copy of this letter and the Private Sponsor Travel Certification Form, including all attachments. You must also include a copy of the Traveler Form completed by you and signed by your employing Member. If you are required to file an annual Financial Disclosure Statement, you must also report all travel expenses totaling more than $305 from a single source on Schedule VII of that statement.

If you have any further questions, please contact the Committee's Office of Advice and Education at extension 5-7107.

Dear Mr. Fried:

You are invited to be the Consumer Electronics Association's (CEA) special guest at the world's largest consumer technology trade show, the 2008 International Consumer Electronics Show (CES) to be held Monday, January 7 through Thursday, January 10, 2008 in Las Vegas, Nevada.

As a technology policy leader, you won't want to miss this event. The Leaders In Technology Program at CES will allow you to see, touch and experience a dynamic industry that supports $600 billion in retail worldwide.

More than 2,700 exhibitors, 4,500 media and 140,000 attendees will come together to see presentations by industry leaders like Microsoft's Bill Gates, Intel's Paul Otellini, Comcast's Brian Roberts, General Motors' Rick Wagoner and Panasonic's Toshihiro Sakamoto. In addition, the CES conference program will feature expert discussion on hot policy topics such as broadband, trade, home recording rights, HDTV and environmental issues.

The Leaders In Technology Program will provide information and insights to assist you in evaluating federal policies that affect our industry. The program is also designed to meet the requirements of the ethics committees of the U.S. House and Senate for privately-sponsored travel. The program, including guest rooms and the Leaders In Technology hospitality suite, is headquartered at The Venetian Hotel.

During your stay, you will have opportunities to speak directly to top industry executives and tour the CES show floor. You are also invited to be our special guest at the Leaders In Technology Dinner on Tuesday, January 8, honoring government guests and top industry executives.

CEA is offering to provide your roundtrip airfare, transportation in Las Vegas from the airport and to the show sites, group meals and lodging during your stay in Las Vegas. Attached please find the required "Private Sponsor Certification Form" for your review. This form will need to accompany your request to the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct for approval of privately-sponsored travel. CEA is not a lobbying firm, but does employ federal lobbyists.

For complete details on the program and to register, please visit <http://www.CESweb.org/LIT2008> and enter the following password: NFried1 to access your personalized record. This is a limited, nontransferable invitation and we ask that you reply by December 1, 2007. Please contact Jana Sievers at (703) 907-4351 or jsievers@CE.org with any questions.

We hope you will be able to join us for this year's Leaders In Technology program and experience firsthand the remarkable innovation and dynamism of the consumer electronics industry.

Sincerely,

Patrick Lavelle

Subject: Invitation to Speak at 2008 International CES
Importance: High

Hello, Neil.

I am the Conferences and Events Assistant for the 2008 International CES which runs Monday, January 7 through Thursday, January 10 in Las Vegas, Nevada. I would like to formally invite you to participate as a panelist at CES. Specifically, we would like you to speak on Monday, January 7 from 10:30 - 11:30 a.m. The session will be moderated by Julie Kearney, Senior Director & Regulatory Counsel, Consumer Electronics Association and is described as follows:

The DTV Transition: A Hill Perspective

Top Hill staffers discuss Congress's view on current issues impacting our Nation's transition to digital television.

More than 140,000 attendees, including 4,500 media, 2,200 analysts and 2,700 exhibitors from 140 countries, are expected to attend the 2008 International CES. I encourage you to visit www.cesweb.org for the most current information on the show.

Please let me know by Friday, December 21st if you are interested in the session. Once you confirm your interest in the speaking opportunity, additional materials will be forthcoming. In the interim, please feel free to contact me with any questions.

I look forward to your response.

Sincerely,
Jana

Nationwide Deployment of Broadband: Are We There Yet?

Las Vegas Convention Center, North Hall, N253

There is much debate surrounding the rate and success of universal broadband deployment in the United States. What positions do policymakers and service providers hold? How and why are consumers adopting broadband? What factors are preventing consumers from embracing and paying for high-speed connections? In this age of consumer-generated content, how will service providers meet consumers' expectations while addressing the content industry's concerns about copyright infringement?

Preparing for the Analog Shutoff

Las Vegas Convention Center, North Hall, N262

The shutoff of analog TV in 2009 will be a historic occasion; careful planning is required to make sure the transition to digital is smooth. A "Digital TV Coupon" is planned for consumers who will need new set-top-boxes. But just what is that, and how are consumers going to get a hold of it? With some consumers still in the dark about analog going dark, what can the industry do to make sure the right information is distributed?

Brian L. Roberts, Chairman and CEO, Comcast Corp.

The Venetian, Palazzo Ballroom, Level 5

The home entertainment and CE markets continue to converge, providing seamless connectivity of content to households around the world. That's why CES welcomes the leader of the nation's largest provider of cable, entertainment and communications products and services to the lineup of 2008 keynote speakers. CEA President Gary Shapiro calls Brian Roberts instrumental in the growth and development of the cable and telecommunications industries.

Under Roberts' direction, Comcast has grown into a Fortune 100 company with $25 billion in revenues in 2006, 24.1 million customers and 90,000 employees. Roberts also is the chairman of the board of directors of the National Cable & Telecommunications Association (NCTA). In October 2006, Roberts was inducted into the Cable Television Hall of Fame, and in May 2007, he was presented with the cable industry's highest honor, the Distinguished Vanguard Award for Leadership.
