

Office of the At Large Congressional District of Alaska to Remain Open to Serve and Assist Constituents

March 21, 2022

PRESS RELEASE

Washington, DC—The Washington, DC, office and the district offices of former Representative Don Young will continue to serve the people of the At Large Congressional District of Alaska under the supervision of the Clerk of the House of Representatives. Representative Young passed away on March 18, 2022.

Staff members of Representative Young remain on the House payroll under the supervision of the Clerk of the House to receive and undertake constituent casework, to help in handling business with the departments of the executive branch of the government, to provide general status information on pending legislation and to offer other general constituent services provided by House offices. The Clerk of the House is Cheryl L. Johnson.

The Washington, DC, office and the Alaska district offices are presently open on a daily basis to accommodate congressional business. Under House Rules, the Clerk manages the offices when a Member dies, resigns, or is expelled. This authority, which does not include voting representation, continues until a successor is elected to fill the vacant seat. This is the eleventh vacancy to occur during the 117th Congress. Thirteen vacancies occurred in the 116th Congress.

The Washington office is located in 2314 Rayburn House Office Building, Washington, DC 20515, telephone (202) 225-5765. Mail addressed to the At Large Congressional District of Alaska will be delivered through the internal House mail distribution system.

The district offices are located at 471 W. 36th Avenue, Suite 201, Anchorage, AK 99503; and 100 Cushman Street, Suite 307, Key Bank Building, Fairbanks, AK 99701. Requests for further details should be directed to the Office of the Clerk (202) 225-7000.
