

Office of the Fourth Congressional District of Virginia to Remain Open to Serve and Assist Constituents

November 29, 2022

PRESS RELEASE

Washington, DC—The Washington, DC, office and the district offices of former Representative A. Donald McEachin will continue to serve the people of the Fourth Congressional District of Virginia under the supervision of the Clerk of the House of Representatives. Representative McEachin passed away on November 28, 2022.

Staff members of Representative McEachin remain on the House payroll under the supervision of the Clerk of the House to receive and undertake constituent casework, to help in handling business with the departments of the executive branch of the government, to provide general status information on pending legislation and to offer other general constituent services provided by House offices. The Clerk of the House is Cheryl L. Johnson.

The Washington, DC, office and the Virginia district offices are presently open on a daily basis to accommodate congressional business. Under House Rules, the Clerk manages the offices when a Member dies, resigns, or is expelled. This authority, which does not include voting representation, continues until a successor is elected to fill the vacant seat. This is the nineteenth vacancy to occur during the 117th Congress. Thirteen vacancies occurred in the 116th Congress.

The Washington office is located in 314 Cannon Building Washington, DC 20515, telephone (202) 225-6365. Mail addressed to the Fourth Congressional District of Virginia will be delivered through the internal House mail distribution system.

The district offices are located at 110 North Robinson Street, Suite 403, Richmond, VA 23220; and 131 North Saratoga Street, Suite B, Suffolk, VA 23434. Requests for further details should be directed to the Office of the Clerk (202) 225-7000.
